Patent Trace Chain.

THE subscriber has invented and obtained a patent for cutting and bending links to make chain of different sizes.

Chain made of those links will have a superior advantage over the chain made in the common way as the iron is first drawn into a wire which makes each link of an equal thickness and more beautiful and strong than the common chain.

To the wholesale merchant they will be sold at 21 doll. per dozen. The links will likewise be sold to blacksmiths or others at 23 dolls. per hundred pounds with the necessary complement of rings, each chain requires six pound of links. Orders accompanied with the cash will be promptly attended to by the subscriber at his works adjoining Pittsburgh.

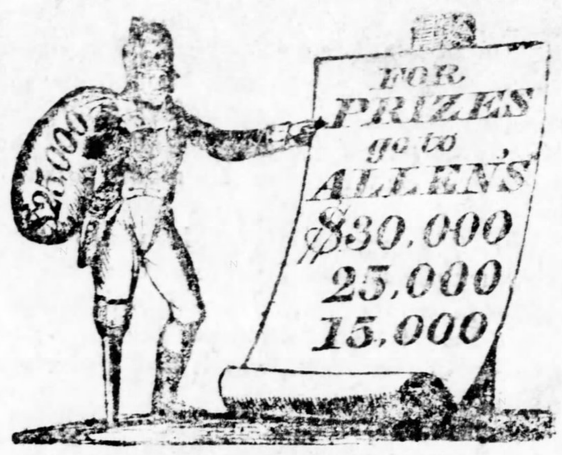
THE DRAWING APPROACHES.



On Monday the 30th of June instant the 4th class of the Internal Navigation Lottery,

will positively commencedrawing.

The first drawn number on that day will be entitled to the capital prize of $2000.

For the fortunate number which is to draw this splendid prize, as also the one for the $20,000, 10,000, or 5000, &c. apply without delay at ALLEN'S truly lucky Office, No 1 Diamond Row, North of the court house, Pittsburgh. Present price of Tickets $8, halves 4, quarters 2, eights 1,

☞ Remember that this popular Lottery for the improvement of the internal navigation of the state, in which every citizen is deeply interested and can hardly pay $8 for a more laudable purpose—has not two blanks to one prize.

Correct check book of the drawing kept for examination, gratis.

To Owners of Horses.

A NUMBER of the merchants of Philadelphia, desirous of promoting the internal intercourse of the state, and of facilitating their trade and connection with the western states, have united themselves into an association, under the name of "The Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Transporting Company." Their object is to reduce and equalize throughout the year, the cost of carriage, and to diminish the time now required, for the transport of merchandize to the western waters. They therefore purpose to establish Lines of Wagons, to start daily from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, to run day and night, changing horses every ten miles.

It must be evident to every enlightened person, that the success of the proposed system is most intimately connected with the interests of the whole community. It is important for the interiour of our state, that the trade of the western country should be maintained with the Atlantick cities; to secure which, the plan now contemplated, it is believed, will be effectual. A reduction in the rates, and in the time required for the transportation of Goods, to and from the Atlantick cities to the western waters, will enable the farmers and others to transmit their products to market with facility and cheapness, and procure a supply of foreign articles on more favourable terms. It will also increase the demand for horses, travelling, the value of lands, and in fine, add much to the improvement and importance of the towns and country on the route. Owners of horses, will find constant and profitable employment for them near their homes, which is surely preferable to uncertain employment at a distance.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED,

For hauling the Wagons any number of sections of ten miles, each section, going and returning, to be performed within every twenty hours, and persons desirous of contracting will state the section or sections they will contract for.

The loading as far as Carlisle, will not exceed 4000 lbs. and from thence to Pittsburgh 3500, or 3200 when the roads are in a bad state.

The following conditions will be required.

1. Each contractor must give satisfactory security for the faithful performance of his contract.
2. Each contract must be for one year.
3. The contractor to be at every expense for his horses and driver, including the harness.
4. The Wagons must travel two miles an hour, changing horses every ten miles without any unnecessary delay.
5. The contractors will be accountable to the Company, for all delays or damages which may arise from fraud or mismanagement upon the road, embraced within their contract.

Turnpike and Bridge Tolls will be paid by the Company.

Application to be made by Letter as early as possible, directed to the Subscriber, agent for the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Transporting Company in Philadelphia.

THOMAS HARPER,

AGENT for the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Transporting Company.

June 16, 1817.

Caution to the Public,

DR. LEE'S (WINDHAM)

BILIOUS PILLS,

OR

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THE above named pills, are the true and original patent Lee's Pills, and are the first Pill for which a patent was ever granted in America.

The universal esteem in which these Pills have been held for many years, as a mild, safe, and efficacious Family Medicine, and the great and increasing demand for them, in most parts of the U. States and West Indies, has induced several wicked and unprincipled dealers in medicines, (particularly in Philadelphia) to make and sell Pills, which they style Lee's Windham Bilious Pills; making use of a copy of his bill of directions, &c. and offering the same for sale, as the genuine Lee's Pills, whereas the true and original Lee's Pills were never prepared in any place except in Windham, (Con.) nor by any persons except the proprietors of the patent. To guard against deceptions of this kind, the public are requested to observe, that each box of the true Lee's Pills, is enclosed in an elegant stereotype label, with these words on the sides thereof; Lee's genuine Windham Bilious Pills: and on the end of the label, the words, Samuel Lee, Patentee, &c. I Thompson, agent, joint proprietor, &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them, the purchaser may be assured that they are counterfeit and not the genuine Lee's Pills. To those who are in the habit of using the genuine pills, the fraud is easily discovered by their effects, and those who may wish to make use of them may guard against counterfeits and imposters, and always be sure of the genuine pills, by observing that they purchase none unless they are enclosed in the label aforesaid.

The proprietors have for several years past expended large sums, in order to break down counterfeiters and dishonest dealers, but are yet convinced that there are some, who not only disregard the laws and the rights of others, but also the injuries they do to the community, by selling their own dangerous compositions, for the genuine Lee's Pills, whenever they think they can do it without being detected & brought to justice. For the purpose of putting a stop to such nefarious traffic, the proprietors have been at very great expence in procuring the stereotype label, and the public may rest assured, that no genuine pills, will be sold without the label being around each box; and as a further inducement to the public to be on their guard against the designs of those dealers in medicines, who keep such counterfeit pills in their shops. The proprietors hereby offer a reward of Three Hundred Dollars, to any person who will prove to conviction, the person or persons who shall make & sell such counterfeit pills and as proper steps have been taken to discover those persons who sell such counterfeit pills, and on whom suspicion already rests, it is hoped that their names will soon be before the public, as dealers in counterfeit medicines, and their persons before the district court of the U. States, to answer for an infringement of the patent.

The approbation of medical gentlemen and the opinion of many thousands of respectable persons who have experienced the good effect of the genuine Lee's Pills, as a mild, safe and efficacious purgative, for removing jaundice, Headach, indigestion, costiveness, cholic, autumnal fevers, and all Bilious complaints, are it is presumed, a sufficient recommendation to those who may wish to make use of them in families or elsewhere.

The genuine Lee's Pills, are sold by the most of those druggists in the U. States who choose to keep good articles of medicine in preference to base ones. A deposit of the genuine pills, will always be kept at the store of Thatcher and Thompson, N. W. corner of Market and Second street; by the proprietors of the patent, where druggists and others, may always be certain of obtaining the true pills, on the same terms as of the patentee.

J. THOMPSON,
Agent to the Patentee.

"DULL TIMES."—In a season of universal langour in the regions of news and politics, when there is no European war nor revolutions to engage the public attention, excite its sympathy, or alarm its fears it is very apparent that news-paper editors must experience much difficulty in making up their papers from day to day, and from week to week, with vigour enough to make them pass even tolerably among their readers. The difficulty is the more severely felt at the present time because the old relish for tumult, and bloodshed has not entirely subsided, but there is still to be found amongst mankind a good deal of anxiety to hear something of the boisterous and sanguinary character of the times that are now passed, and gone.

Uninteresting, however, as the events of the present times are compared with those which we have lately witnessed, the evil of the present sits more heavily upon the editors, than upon their readers; for we verily believe that dullness is more dull to him that prepares it, than to him for whom it is prepared. Nor do we think, notwithstanding this is considered as emphatically the charitable age, that any great share of that christian virtue is extended to editors.—What an astonishing difference is there between the present times and the past! A few years since, and nothing was easier than to fill a news-paper, even if it was the largest that was ever published in this country. Then almost every arrival brought us a bulletin of some tremendous battle, an account of the capture of some capital, the dethronement of some monarch, the annihilation of some state or nation, the creation of some new sovereign, some terrible naval battle, &c. &c. On subjects of this sort, the public attention is instinctively turned and fastened with the greatest possible degree of eagerness and force. At such seasons, news-papers are in demand, and editors in high repute, and however low the state of taste for general literature may have become in the country, it never failed to rise to the level of that which is contained in the public gazettes.

Now, all is changed. In the room of bulletins, and battles, and Bonaparte, we have cut-worms, and locusts, and frosts, and drought, and spots on the sun, and seasons deranged—hard winters, cold backward springs, prognostications of a barren summer, and approaching famine. If there is any amusement in all this, it must be to hypochondriacs, who dwell with delight on such subjects;—and, indeed, upon all subjects that are gloomy, and discouraging. But who can calculate a news-paper for persons of this temper; who consider it as next to committing the unpardonable sin to laugh, and whose music, if prepared by themselves, would consist only of a single tune, and that would be "Funeral Thought." We do not wish to murmur or repine: resignation would be a much more useful frame of mind, both in editors and readers. Those of us, indeed, who are naturally dull, enjoy real benefit in the times, we charge our own peculiar characteristic quality to the times. But to those few who are of a more lively and brilliant cast of mind, we can scarcely conceive of a more trying predicament than that in which they are now placed; without one cheerful or enlivening subject at home, to call forth the powers of their minds, or the treasures of their understanding, and nothing abroad, except the disturbances in South America, of which we know but little, and that little is full as well calculated to depress as to exalt their spirits, or their genius.

SPANISH AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

A Demerara paper of the 30th April, brings another version of Revolutionary events in the vicinity of the Oronooko, in Terra Firma.

A Spanish emigrant in Demerara had received information, that a plot to deliver the Spanish port of Augustura, to the patriot chief Piar, had been providentially detected;—that Fitzgerald, the traitorous Governor, had been arrested and sent in irons to the General in Chief, Morillo, at Verenag, for trial and punishment; and that his principal associate, a Commissary, with a number of inferior abettors, had been summarily tried and shot.

The proofs of the treachery were said to be ample;—that Fitzgerald had occasioned an artificial scarcity to promote it; and that great quantities of provisions, and 40,000 dollars in specie, were found concealed among his effects.

That two days after the detection of this plot, the royalist Gen. Moralles appeared in force before Augustura from Caraccas, gave battle to the revolutionary army under Gen. Cadana, defeated it, and compelled it to retreat six leagues, where it halted. Here they were followed by the Spanish General Sorati, with 1500 men, from Fort Guyana; a battle ensued, when the latter was completely defeated by the revolutionists, and himself, and most of his troops, either killed or made prisoners.

After this success, Gen. Moralles entered Augustura, tranquilized the public mind—gave orders for provisioning and reinforcing the garrison and then set out in quest of the party which had defeated Sorati.

Description of the Elephanta, or the termination of the Monsoon, on the celebrated island of that name in India. From Nathaniel G. M. Senter's Travels in India.

To give a just description of the sublime scene would require the genius of Milton, and the classic fancy & gorgeous imagery of Burke. For 15 days previous to this elemental warfare the heavens assume an angry and menacing countenance—The sun withholds his illuminating glory—Clouds, big with tempest, lour over this holy devoted island, driving and intermingling their bodies in magnificent confusion. At this moment the majesty of the heavens seems obscured. The four quarters of the earth hurry there to aid the conflicting elements.

Alternately dark and lucid; blazing effulgence of lightning serves to add a fearful splendor to the convulsing roar of thunders, shaking these holy temples to their very bases. The day approaches big with this most sublime most awful scene in nature.

At one tremendnous crash the belligerent elements spend their fury and retire to their respective provinces. In a moment the glory of the sun and the azure canopy of the heavens burst upon the eye in all the settled serenity of light and brightness. It is difficult to describe a scene, which for grandeur of imagery, magnificence and beauty, exceeds any thing in the natural world. The sundering of the Blue Ridge by the Shenandoah—the roaring cataract of Niagara; and even the celebrated scenery of Dindegul, in India, are incomparably less sublime than the aerial conflicts which terminate on this hallowed and romantic island.

Note.—This island is situated on the Malabar coast of India, five miles from the Island of Bombay, and seven from the continent. On it is the celebrated subterraneous Temple of Elephanta. There is one solitary shepherd on the island, who keeps a large flock of goats. It is singular, indeed, that from time immemorial, the Monsoon has broken on this lofty and hallowed island. The E. Indians own that it is a proof of its sacredness, and that gods and goddesses dwell in the recesses of the temple.

DEERFIELD, Mass. May 22.

Woodchuck Hunt.—Woodchucks have appeared in great numbers in this town the present spring. It is well known that these animals are very mischievous, and occasion great damage to the farmer, by burrowing in his ground, and destroying his crops, such as clover, grass, peas, beans oats, &c. A number of the young gentlemen of this village formed themselves into a company and selected Captains, who chose sides, for the purpose of destroying them. This evening being the day of the Massachusetts Gubernatorial Election, was appointed to communicate the result, when it appeared that the side of Capt. Ralph Williams, consisting of ten, had killed 486; and the side of Capt. Seth Shelden, consisting likewise of ten, had killed 346, making an aggregate of 832, being an excess in favour of Capt. Williams of 140. Mr. Derick Bernard, on the side of Capt. Williams, killed 152, and Mr. Joseph Stebbins, on the side of Capt. Sheldon killed 138. The company partook of an excellent supper, and the evening was spent in hilarity and mirth. Among other subjects of amusement, was the relation of the hunters of the different methods of taking the Woodchucks. They are either trapped, drowned out of their holes, dug out or shot. Instances have occurred of digging out from four to six young, with two old ones, from the same hole. But the most frequent method of taking them is by shooting. The woodchuck rarely, if ever ventures far from his hole. If frightened or disturbed, he immediately resorts to it as his castle. The hunter pursues, passes the hole and places himself wihin shooting distance of it.—The woodchuck to gratify his curiosity always approaches the mouth of the hole, unconscious of danger, where he is almost uniformly shot dead by the hunter who stands in wait.

This hunt has lessened one of the evils which the farmers have had reason to dread, for, although they are not entirely destroyed, yet they are very much thinned. The worms and the pigeons are now the greatest nuisances from which they suffer in this vicinity

SHEEP.

Merino sheep seem to have extended much to the northern department of France where the climate is said to be favourable to them; their price, so high previously to the invasion of Spain, has since accommodated itself to the ordinary price of sheep. In the above department, the sheep are of the long and coarse wooled breed are housed every night, and fed upon straw and cut artificial grasses, green or dry. The mode of Shepherding in France, where the whole country is an open field, forms a curious instance of primitive simplicity and ingenuity, and perhaps of the superior docility of the continental dog; sheep are pastured in the lanes and ditches, and upon the partition banks, the flock being always attended by the shepherd and three or four dogs; the duty to which these dogs have been especially trained, is to prevent the sheep from straying out of their bounds and trespassing upon the corn; to this end, two dogs are stationed, one at each extremity of the boundary upon which the sheep feed, parading continually at a double quick march between the sheep and the corn, meeting each other half way and never fail to seize the straying sheep.

Parson cheated by himself.—Mr. Jeremy White, one of Oliver Cromwell's domestic chaplain's, a sprightly man, and one of the chief wits of the court, was so ambitious as to make his addresses to Oliver's youngest daughter, the lady Frances. The young lady did not discourage him; but in so religious a court, this gallantry could not be carried on without being taken notice of. The protector was told of it, and was much concerned thereat; he ordered the person who told him to keep a strict look out, promising, if he could give him any substantial proofs, he should be well rewarded, and White severely punished. The spy followed his business so close that in a little time he dogged Jeremy White, (as generally called) to the lady's chamber, and ran immediately to the protector, to acquaint him that they were together. Oliver, in a rage, hastened to the chamber; and going in hastily, found Jerry on his knees, either kissing the lady's hand, or having just kissed it. Cromwell, in a fury, asked what was the meaning of that posture before his daughter Frank? White, with a great deal of presence of mind, said, "May it please your highness! I have a long time courted that young gentlewoman there, my lady's woman, and cannot prevail. I was therefore humbly praying her ladyship to intercede for me." The protector, turning to the young woman, cried, "what's the meaning of this, hussy? Why do you refuse the honor Mr. White would do you? He is my friend, and I expect you will treat him as such." My lady's woman, who desired nothing more, with a very low courtesy, replied "If Mr. White intends me that honor, I shall not be against him." "Sayest thou so, my lass?" cried Cromwell—"call Goodwyn,; this business shall be done presently, before I go out of the room." Mr. White was gone too far to come back; his brother parson came; Jerry and my lady's woman were married in the presence of the protector, who gave her five-hundred pounds for her portion, which, with the money she had saved before, made Mr. White easy in his circumstances, except that he never loved his wife, nor she him, though they lived together near fifty years afterwards.

MAIL ROBBERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE GAZETTE.

WASHINGTON, Pa. June 19, 1817.

"Yesterday commenced the interesting trial of Alexander Scott, charged with robbing the mail, at Canonsburgh during the last winter. The testimony of the Post-masters of Pittsburgh, Washington and Canonsburgh, proved the fact, that several extensive robberies had been committed during the months of January and February last. A package of letters, to the post master of which the post-master of Washington testified, was produced in evidence —it was found concealed in the garret of a house which was much frequented by Scott and his associates. Evidence of Scott's having been seen burning a large quantity of papers on a mail night, in a private room of the stage-office, as likewise of his having frequently carried the mail from the post-office in Canonsburgh, to the stage-office, was adduced. A Kentucky post-note, amounting to 984 dolls. which had been remitted to the Hopkinsville bank for acceptance, by the firm of Anshutz, Rham & Co. of Pittsburgh, and intercepted on its return, was proved to have been in his possession. It was likewise testified, that a note on the Union Bank of Georgetown, remitted by Lewis Vimont, post-master at Millersburgh, (K.) to Messrs. O'Brien and Dyott, of Pittsburgh, had been exchanged for Scott, by a gentleman of Canonsburgh. With such evidence before them, notwithstanding a most able and eloquent defence made by Parker Campbell, esq. one of the prisoner's counsel, the jury returned this morning with a verdict against the prisoner.—A motion was made in arrest of judgment by Mr. Campbell, on the ground that the indictment was too general in its terms; which was opposed by C. Shaler, esq. the counsel for the General Post-office, and over-ruled by the court. The prisoner was sentenced to six years confinement in the penitentiary, on the indictment for robbing the mail, and to three years confinement in the same place, on another indictment.

"It is understood that the want of a material witness on the part of the prosecution, will prevent the trial of two other indictments for the same transaction from coming on this term."

We are informed by a gentleman from Washington, that Scott terminated his career on Saturday night last, by hanging himself with his handkerchief.

It is expected that JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, Esq. will arrive from England early in July next, and enter upon the duties of his appointment to the Department of State,

A Jamaica paper of May 21, states that a slave in that Island has been sentenced to transportation for life, for practising obeah or witchcraft.

An important fact in history.—A British reviewer, in reviewing some sketches of the life of Lord Barrington, relates, in substance, the following circumstance relating to the separation of this country from the British empire—a circumstance, which we believe has been but recently divulged.

At the time when the British government was determined on coercing the American colonies, Lord Barrington was one of the minority. His Lordship was decidedly in favor of coercion, but insisted that it should be altogether by the operations of the navy. In that sentiment he stood alone; all the other members of the administration being passionately bent on sending over armies and marching them through that country.

Had the counsel of that sagacious statesman prevailed, the issue of the contest might have been very different from what it was. It is more than doubtful whether America could have long maintained her independence, or been long united, under the distressing and disheartening species of warfare, in which she would have been capable of retaliating scarcely any of the evils she received. The probability is, that the people, having nothing to animate them, every thing to discourage them, would, in two or three years, have been wearied out—the states set at variance with each other, and the whole country subjugated.

It was recorded on high that America should become independent. And seemingly in order to the accomplishment of that destiny, the British administration was visited with a marvellous infatuation, which was manifest in numerous other instances besides the abovementioned. On the contrary, America was furnished with men of distinguished wisdom, foresight, and stability, as statesmen: and with a military chief, whose like has been rarely seen, if ever.

QUEBEC, May 27.

Case of Hydrophobia.—Madame Bruneau, wife of Mr. Bruneau, of the Ordnance department, had her arm violently lacerated by the bite of a cat, about the commencement of November last. The animal fastened upon her with such ferocity, that it would not loosen its hold until some of its bones were broken; it was immediately killed. The laceration was washed with brine, and dressed with some domestic remedy, such as the family had been in the habit of applying to wounds and sores. It continued open for several weeks, and healed at last with much difficulty. About the beginning of May, the scars become inflamed and very itchy, attended with a sort of pinching pain which extended in the direction of the lymphatics to the Axilla, and side of the neck. On the morning of the 12th, when attempting to take a little cordial for the relief of a pain in the stomach, she found herself seized with an indescribable feeling of horror, and constriction of the throat, as the liquid approached her mouth: attributing this to the smell of the cordial, she tried a little tea, and afterwards, some water; but the same feeling was excited, the instant she looked at either of these. Her husband being employed in the Ordnance sent for a medical officer of that department, who immediately attended, and after much enquiry obtained the history above related of the case. Care was taken in putting the necessary questions to the husband, that the patient should not hear them, in order that she might have no suspicion of the real nature of the disease; she, however, overheard some observations that were made about the cat, and instantly exclaimed, "Ce n'est pas cela car mon enfant a ce matin dans le meme tems que moi." The case being considered an important one, was reported to the inspector of Hospitals, and permission was obtained from the family to call in an eminent physician, who, upon seeing the case did not hesitate to coincide in opinion with the Ordnance Medical Officer, that it was a distinct case of hydrophobia. This opinion was on the following morning further confirmed by that of the Inspector of Hospitals and the surgeon to the Forces. Notice was given of the case to all the medical gentleman in town who could be found.—The progress of the disease was so rapid, as to afford but little time for medical treatment. Copious bleeding having been latterly recommended from high authority, was put in practice, but with evident disadvantage—large doses of mercurial purgatives (indicated by the state of her bowels) were administered with some degree of temporary relief—antispasmodics were then attempted to be given, but the power of deglutition was soon lost, that very little was taken—(about three grains of the extract of Hyocyamus.) The same sense of horror, and spasmodic constriction of the throat, &c. were excited by looking at a mirror, or any other substance having a polished reflecting surface. On the morning of the 13th, these sensations came on spontaneously, and were frequently followed by violent convulsions, the moment any liquid was brought in sight—the power of swallowing solids now began to diminish, and by ten o'clock not even the saliva could be got down, but issued abundantly out of the mouth, in a viscid and stringy state.—From this moment the convulsions continued incessantly, until two P. M. when she died. The body became perfectly putrid in a few hours after her decease.

From the American Daily Advertiser.

Mr. Poulson—The following experiment is a curious one, and may not perhaps be uninteresting to many of your readers. Place a flat piece of silver between your upper teeth and lip and having obtruded your tongue beneath it, place thereon a small bit of zinc, then gently draw your tongue inward until the zinc and silver come together—at the moment of the contact a faint flash somewhat resembling distant lightning, will be perceptible a few feet before you—but only visible to the person by whom the experiment is tried; the experiment must be made in a dark room, and the zinc must be touched by nothing except the tongue at the time of its contact with the silver, else the effect will be entirely lost. If some of your intelligent correspondents would point out the cause of this phenomenon, it would confer a gratification of the curiosity of an

ENQUIRER.

WHOLESOME EMIGRATION.

Capt. Stanley, arrived at Salem, in 34 days from Antwerp, states that two thousand Hollanders (Quakers) were expected at Antwerp from the interior of the country, to embark for Pennsylvania.—The Russian ship Vaterlandsleib, Hazwinkle, was to sail from Antwerp for Philadelphia, the day after Capt. Stanley left there with 350 passengers, all belonging to the society of Friends.

A paragraph dated Naples April 5, mentions that very interesting discoveries had lately been made at Pompei. Near the temple, a rectangular public edifice, of 260 palms in length and 120 in breadth, with a portico of 50 columns in the interior, has been discovered, and in it several remarkable pieces of statuary and other works of art. It is hoped that this enclosure may prove a productive mine of objects of art.

That's Music.—To the Bucks and Lasses of this town the Violin is the best music. To our Merchants it is music to hear the purse chink on the counter with—'I'll take a couple of patterns, if you please.' A just cause and good fee make harmonious music for our lawyers. 'Will you take a ride to————next Monday, Miss,' is Music to our Ladies; but—'Will you marry me my pretty maid?' when the question comes from the favourite lad, possesses all the harmony and melody combined.—And to us PRINTERS it is the sweetest Music to be told 'I have brought you half a dozen new patrons, or I have brought you the subscription money from all my neighbours.

FOR THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

PARODY.

IN the uphill of life, when I find I am toiling,
May my fate no less fortunate prove,
Than a well furnish'd purse to assist my turmoiling,
And a dear little girl that I love;
With a cellar well stor'd, and a cook to my mind,
And a friend that ne'er wishes to borrow;
I'll indulge my good humor whene'er so inclin'd,
And invite him to dinner to-morrow.

With a coat to my back, that I'm able to pay for,
Whether specie or paper prevail;
And a wife who at church, I shall ne'er have to stay for,
And a brewer that gives me good ale;
With a couch to recline on, a valet to wait,
And tobacco to puff away sorrow!
I'd envy not Bony, his honor or state,
Nor exchange places with him to-morrow.

From political storms, may my mind be completely
Secured by its indolent ease;
And my wife when address'd, always answer me sweetly,
"Just my dear sir as you please."
From duns and from lawyers, aloof may I stand,
And from sycophants fend, ask, nor borrow;
But if such intrude, have a porter at hand,
To invite them politely—to-morrow.

May I ne'er have a foe, who is mean & intriguing,
Nor ever a coward offend;
May I never become, either dull or fatiguing,
Nor e'er have a garrulous friend;
Thus gliding thro' life, without labor or guile,
With a face free from wrinkle or furrow;
Even death! from his errand, will linger a while,
And still put it off 'till to-morrow.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers.

The proprietor has every possible reason tath an result from extensive experience, for believe ing that a dose of these pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those dis- a their use will very generally succeed in restoring healt , and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—o restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds wh ch are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

I= sickly times or places, a dose should be taken every fortnight, and if there is reason to apprehend personal danger, it may be taken once a week.

They have been found remarkahly efficacious n preventing and curing diso ders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S
Worm Destroying Lozenges.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of a similar title so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is, its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent and is so mild in its operation, that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach or bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many other fatal disorders.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally dur ing the warm season, will effectuallyprevent the "vomiting and purging of children," a dreadful disorder which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewisethe mildest and most certain remedy known, and the restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaints Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness, having a pleasing appearance and an agreeable taste.

M.—Leave Hager's-town every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at four P. M.—Arrive at Baltimore and Washington city, (both cases) same evening. This arrangement is made in order to accommodate travellers who wish to go to Baltimore or Washington city, by that route. The accommodations to Washington city, are very convenient to travellers. They can, by entering at M'Connelstown, arrive at Washington city—in one day and an half—and to Baltimore in the same time. Gentlemen travelling on horse back, who wish to take this way from M'Connelstown—can have their horses completely taken care of until their return. Travellers on this route, through so beautiful a country—will find every thing arranged to their satisfaction

The stages built upon the most improved principle, are easy and commodious—the drivers sober, obliging and attentive—and horses well selected for their duty—uncommonly fine. The proprietors will pledge themselves that the public shall be fully accommodated All baggage parcels, &c. by the above stages—(let it be understood)—are at the risk of the owners
